Wind Farm EIS status public meeting set for Nov. 21 in Bourne

CONCORD, Mass. – The U.S. Army Corps of Engineers, along with other federal, state and local participating agencies, will hold a public meeting on the status of the Cape Wind windfarm proposal on Thursday, Nov. 21 in Bourne, Mass.

The meeting is open to all interested individuals, groups, and organizations, and will be held on Thursday, Nov. 21 from 4-7 p.m. in the Upper Cape Cod Regional Technical School cafeteria, located at 220 Sandwich Road in Bourne, Mass.

The meeting purpose is to provide the public, groups and organizations with an opportunity to get an update on the current status of the Windfarm Environmental Impact Statement (EIS) and state Environmental Impact Review (EIR). Various federal, state and local agencies will attend the meeting and be available to answer questions one-on-one in regards to their areas of expertise in the environmental review process.

The various agencies will have information tables set up for people to visit, pick up fact sheets, and ask one-on-one questions of the agencies and groups involved (i.e. Federal Aviation Administration, Massachusetts Coastal Zone Management and Environmental Policy Act Office, U.S. Environmental Protection Agency, U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service, National Marine Fisheries Service, Cape Wind Associates, LLC, the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers, and others).

Information handouts and fact sheets will be available at the meeting. For more information about the Cape Wind windfarm proposal check the Corps website at:
